VESSELS SUNK
BY SUBMARINESTwenty-one Lost by British,
Says Week's Report.U-boats in the Mediterranean are Mining Harbors.Former American Steamer is Torpedoed Near Genoa.(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
LONDON, May 30.—Eighteen
British merchant vessels of more than 1600 tons were sunk during the past week, it was officially announced tonight. One vessel of less than 1600 tons and two fishing vessels were sunk.

The announcement reads:

"Weekly summary:

"Aircraft, 2719; sailings, 2768.

"British merchant vessels sunk by mines or submarines over 1600 tons,

18; under 1600 tons, 1.

"British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked, including one previously reported, 17.

"British fishing vessels sunk, 2."

Summer weather and the long days favor warfare on the submarines, and the Admiralty is taking full advantage of these conditions.It is the belief of naval men that as long as these conditions prevail there is little likelihood that the submarines will make any better showing than in past months.The losses of British shipping from the submarine war as reported last week totaled thirty. While the losses of vessels exceeding 1600 tons each remain the same this week as in the last previous report, the number of vessels of less than 1600 tons is reduced from nine to only one.The number of fishing vessels sunk is reduced from three to two.

WASHINGTON TORPEDOED.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

NEW YORK, May 30.—Officers of the former American steamship Virginia, who arrived at an American port today, brought word of the sinking of the British freight steamship Washington by a German submarine on May 2. The Washington was torpedoed, they asserted, only seven miles from Genoa, after the naval convoy had left the steamship, believing her safe from attack. The explosion was heard by persons ashore, they declared.According to the Virginia's officers, who talked with the crew of the destroyed vessel in Genoa, the Washington left New York April 1, but the maritime records do not contain the departure of any vessel of that name from this port. There is a British steamship named Washington, 1650 tons gross, owned by the Radcliffe Steamship Company, London, but her movements are not recorded.The Virginia's officers said the U-boats operating in the Mediterranean have become so bold they swoop into harbors, planting mines and cutting cable. They said the German submarines are equipped with net-cutting apparatus, a "sort of wire-cutting device like a bus-saw," they described it, which cuts a net "like a hot knife through butter."The Virginia was sold to the French government on her arrival recently in Europe.

Premier

The Aluminum Six with Magnetic Gear Shift

Do you know that Premier's aluminum motor takes a full quarter of a ton off the front end of the car and brings about the most perfect distribution of chassis weight ever attained in any motor car? Do you know, also, that as a result of this redistribution of weight, Premier holds the road at sixty miles an hour as securely as most cars do at twenty? It is literally the hardest car to make skid that you ever drove. This explains why the salesman with a cast iron motor to sell is up against it the moment he runs into Premier competition.

You might just as well acquaint yourself now with the advantages of aluminum motor construction because automobile motor engineering is headed that way. The reasons for using aluminum instead of iron in cylinder castings and elsewhere throughout the motor can quickly be made obvious.

Take the Premier motor as an example.

Cast it in aluminum and right off the bat you save 255 pounds. That gives you a 255 pound margin to play with in the design of the rest of your chassis.

With this 255 pounds saved in the front end we have been able to make our frame heavier and huskier than almost any frame in existence.

Premier's frame is eight inches deep. The frames in even $3000 and $4000 cars are seldom, if ever, over four or five inches deep.

Now, we go even farther with this redistribution of weight and make every point of stress in the whole chassis husky and strong far beyond what you find in most cars.

Kills Two Birds with One Stone

And while we are thus creating a car that can't work loose and get rattly, we are incidentally making a car that sticks to the road like a leech and a car that is almost impossible to make skid or swerve. Get that "won't swerve and won't skid" thought in your head. It is one of Premier's most distinguishing points. Drive a Premier once and you'll understand exactly what we mean.

Please also bear this in mind.

While Premier's rear end is giving her driver no trouble her front wheels, relieved of 255 pounds of dead weight, are steering free as a weather vane. Premier is the easiest steering big car on wheels. Check us up on that, too.

Mind you, every one of the above advantages are made possible entirely by the use of our aluminum motor, and any effort to find a cast iron car that can equal Premier in holding the road and in ease of steering is futile because such a car is an engineering impossibility per se.

Aluminum is Not Only Lighter, But Better

Quite apart from this question of weight, the aluminum motor is infinitely ahead of any cast iron motor. Do you realize that aluminum motors are almost universally used in aeroplanes, and that aeroplanes must be dependable? If an automobile goes bad you can "get out and get under," but there is no chance for tinkering three thousand feet in the air. The Premier motor is just as dependable as these other aluminum motors that are at this moment swirling over the battlefields of Europe.

The use of the aluminum motor is not in any sense an experiment. It has been used in many of the most expensive cars in Europe for over ten years. Today you can get as good a motor in Premier at $2150 as you can get in any five or six thousand dollar European car.

Our Aluminum Motor Construction

Into the aluminum block are set individual cast iron sleeves. These sleeves are hardened and ground to a glass finish and give the most perfect bearing surface for the pistons that it is possible to secure. Obviously, when each sleeve is handled separately, perfection of workmanship is attainable which is out of the question where six cylinders are bored simultaneously in a solid block of iron. It is impossible to hold the boring of six cylinders simultaneously down to the accuracy and limitations that can be easily obtained where individual sleeves are employed. Furthermore, should a cylinder become scored by any chance it can be removed and replaced quickly and at practically no expense. If an iron motor is scored all cylinders must be rebored or replaced at great expense.

In Premier's Lynite Aluminum Motor we use Lynite Aluminum Pistons with the utmost consistency. Pistons are to a motor precisely what shoes are to a runner. Premier pistons are so light that they do not retard or encumber the speed impulse of the motor.

Such a tremendous reduction in the reciprocating parts has been secured that we believe Premier can accelerate from one to twenty miles an hour in less time than any car built. Let us show you. The new Premier will make better than sixty miles an hour with a stock gear ratio.

As for power, the real test of a car's hill climbing ability is not how fast it can take a bad hill in high, but how slowly. Premier, on a stiff hill, can throttle lower, under full load in high, than any car we ever saw—and can accelerate more quickly. And that's the stuff that you need in a hilly country.

Premier makes every drop of gas count. She Fletcherizes her fuel, so to speak, and comes as nearly breaking even with John D. Rockefeller as any motor car built.

Aluminum pistons, perfect carburetion, and clean designing of the exhaust passages are some of the reasons for Premier's economy, and while we make no specific claims about how many miles you can get to the gallon in Premier, many owners advise that they have secured eighteen miles and better, and fourteen and fifteen miles per gallon is common.

In addition to the aluminum motor, Premier has literally dozens of other features which place it in a class by itself, such as the C-H Magnetic Gear Shift, short turning radius, gun metal velours body finish, etc., etc.

Why cling to the old? Get the latest, most dependable, snappiest and most economical type of motor in your next car. Buy a Premier at $2150 and get a taste of the new type of motoring that is to be. Arrange for your initiation by phone.

CALLS LOAN A SAFEGUARD.

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis Aids the Sale of Bonds.

Bay City Chamber of Commerce Hears Pastor.

Urges Need of Preserving Democracy for World.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—The victory of this liberty loan and the way, safeguarding democracy, is to be the most glorious victory that has ever blessed the human race.

This was the keynote of a speech by Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., who spoke here tonight at the annual banquet of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Hillis said, in part: "We are 180,000,000 of folk, but we have one thought and one purpose, namely, 'government of the people, by the people and for the people' shall not perish from the earth at the hands of Germany."

"The English people subscribed loans up to $10,000,000,000," he said. "The French people have bought $10,000,000,000 French bonds, and the moment the richer people of this great republic are asked to subscribe $10,000,000,000, payable in installments."

"We are in this war to say that there is no room left in this world for a czar, a kaiser or a sultan. The failure of this loan and if liberty would be the most glorious failure of our earth has known."

"Not this loan will not fail. The American people are patriots. They love their native land, willing to live for it, and, if necessary, willing to die for this dear, dear land."

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

BERNE, May 30.—Dr. Paul Ritter, minister to the United States, who transferred to his post here today, told the annual conference on foreign affairs of the United States, in a speech at Long Beach, N. Y., that the Swiss government had no intention of making amendments to the espionage laws of the country.

Dr. Ritter said he believed the post of Switzerland in regard to the war was misunderstood in the United States and asserted that the Swiss government had no intention of making amendments to the espionage laws of the country.

"We are in this war to say that there is no room left in this world for a czar, a kaiser or a sultan. The failure of this loan and if liberty would be the most glorious failure of our earth has known."

COWARDLY MEN FLEE TO OREGON WOODS.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 30.—

Young men from all parts of the nation are scurrying into the lumber woods of the Pacific Northwest in a cowardly attempt to hide from registration for military service.

From a source of "undoubted authority," it has been learned many of the applicants at the office of the Columbia Employment Company are men between 21 and 25, seeking work in logging camps, according to Manager Harris.

"But I have orders for 1000 men that I can't fill," he said.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PORTLAND (Or.) May 30.—Testimony that he fired four times from the south and thought possibly "he may have hit Horace Harrison," one of the wounded, was given today by Grover Breslin, United Verde guard, at the Coroner's investigation of the killing last night of two United Verde employees and wounding of two others when they were responding to a call to fight a fire which destroyed the depot of the United Verde and Pacific Railroad.

Breslin testified he opened fire when the shooting started.

Until Breslin testified it was believed that W. N. Terry, the second man wounded, was the only one of the guards employed at the United Verde mine since the strike of union miners was called last Thursday night who had fired any shots. Terry was adjourned until tomorrow, at which time Terry will be examined if he has sufficiently recovered from his wound to permit.

MANAGER'S CONCESSIONS. A written statement of the concessions he would make to the strikers was presented today to John McBride, conciliator of the Department of Labor, by Charles W. Clark, general manager of the United Verde. He offered to pay the miners the Miami wage scale of $3.25 a day for underground workers, which, he said, had been promised; to grant as low rates on water and electricity as the Arizona Corporation Commission will allow, and to co-operate with the merchants toward reducing the cost of living.

He said there would be no discrimination against strikers; that every man would be given a grievance committee appointed by the employees would always be given a hearing by Robert E. Tally, superintendent, or himself when he was in Jerome.

The statement of union leaders was handed to McBride tonight, but it was not made public.

MEXICANS' CHARGES. A charge that a "minority" of the workers had caused the strike of union miners was contained in a statement presented today to Gov. Thomas Campbell of Arizona and Lieut. James J. Hornbrook, Seventh United States Cavalry, by officers of the Liga Protectora, a Mexican fraternal and educational organization. It bore signatures of 373 Mexicans in Jerome and 148 in Clarkdale.

The statement said there was no reason for a strike, since the Miami wage scale had been granted. The Mexicans demanded protection from the City Council and State.

A Memorial Day parade was held today by the strikers.

Survivors Rescued from Lost Schooner—Captain Is Dead.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

HAVANA, May 30.—The loss of the American schooner M. E. Eldridge of Dennis, Mass., and the death of her captain, George Delbat, and one member of her crew, who perished from exposure and starvation, became known today, when eight survivors of the boat were brought in here by a British schooner.

The Eldridge left Tampa, Fla., May 5 for Cienfuegos, but sprang a leak and sank in a hurricane encountered when three days out from Tampa.

The rescued men were picked up yesterday after drifting eighteen days in a small boat without water, and with only a few canned peaches for food. The sailors declared they caught a shark with ropes and drank its blood to sustain life.

The M. E. Eldridge was a three-masted schooner of 252 tons, built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1874, and was owned by H. B. Kelly of Dennis, Mass.

Struggle for Trieste Moderate Attacks are Resuming Lively Offensive.

on the Trentino front is announced in today's official statement. The Italian line has been extended west of Medauna.

"The artillery was not so active yesterday on the Trentino front as in Carina," says the War Office report, "but was very heavy on the Julian front, particularly in the sector from Mont Cuoco to Mont Vellon and east of Gorizia. The German attack on the latter was repulsed, and our trenches on Hill 652. Three successive attacks after intense artillery fire failed completely. We captured some thirty prisoners."

"On the Carso the work of strengthening our lines is proceeding actively. An enemy assault attempted east of Roncole was broken by our battery fire."

"Between Jamiano and the coast we extended by local offensive actions our occupation of ground west of Medauna."

"On Monday afternoon one enemy airplane was brought down in a severe air fight east of Mont S. Marco."

NOTHING IMPORTANT.

LONDON, May 30, 9:25 p.m.—There is nothing of special interest to report.

SLAY AIR ATTACKS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PETROGRAD, May 30, via London, 9:15 p.m.—(British Admiralty via Wireless Press.) "The usual fusillade occurred on all fronts," says today's War Office report.

"A Russian airplane dropped bombs on an enemy post in the region of Stanislav. Five airplanes flew about four hours over Podgale, no injury resulting to our aviators encountered the enemy. One of our airplanes was killed."

INACTIVITY AT FRONT.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BERLIN, May 30, 9:05 p.m.—(British Admiralty via Wireless Press.) Inactivity along the Western front, except for occasional operations and artillery fire, is indicated by today's army headquarters report. The other fronts are quiet. The statement reads: "Western front: During the day the artillery activity was lively on the Wytschaete sector. In the evening the firing increased at other places."

"British reconnoitering advances on the Artois front were reported as were similar activities by the French on the Chemin-Des-Dames. In the engagements southwest of the latter it resulted in the capture of a number of positions by us."

"Eastern front: The situation is unchanged."

Macedonian front: There are no important developments."

IN EASTERN GALICIA.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

VIENNA (via London) May 30, 8:30 p.m.—The War Office communique says:

"In the eastern war theater there has been livelier fighting in Eastern Galicia. It has been comparatively calmer on the Italian front. Toward evening the Italian with strong forces, again attempted to break through our lines near Udine, but the attack collapsed before our fire."

"Italian attacks today in Fumane suffered a similar fate. There is nothing of importance to report from the other fronts."

COWARDLY MEN FLEE TO OREGON WOODS.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 30.—Young men from all parts of the nation are scurrying into the lumber woods of the Pacific Northwest in a cowardly attempt to hide from registration for military service.

From a source of "undoubted authority," it has been learned many of the applicants at the office of the Columbia Employment Company are men between 21 and 25, seeking work in logging camps, according to Manager Harris.

"But I have orders for 1000 men that I can't fill," he said.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PORTLAND (Or.) May 30.—Testimony that he fired four times from the south and thought possibly "he may have hit Horace Harrison," one of the wounded, was given today by Grover Breslin, United Verde guard, at the Coroner's investigation of the killing last night of two United Verde employees and wounding of two others when they were responding to a call to fight a fire which destroyed the depot of the United Verde and Pacific Railroad.

Breslin testified he opened fire when the shooting started.

Until Breslin testified it was believed that W. N. Terry, the second man wounded, was the only one of the guards employed at the United Verde mine since the strike of union miners was called last Thursday night who had fired any shots. Terry was adjourned until tomorrow, at which time Terry will be examined if he has sufficiently recovered from his wound to permit.

MANAGER'S CONCESSIONS. A written statement of the concessions he would make to the strikers was presented today to John McBride, conciliator of the Department of Labor, by Charles W. Clark, general manager of the United Verde. He offered to pay the miners the Miami wage scale of $3.25 a day for underground workers, which, he said, had been promised; to grant as low rates on water and electricity as the Arizona Corporation Commission will allow, and to co-operate with the merchants toward reducing the cost of living.

He said there would be no discrimination against strikers; that every man would be given a grievance committee appointed by the employees would always be given a hearing by Robert E. Tally, superintendent, or himself when he was in Jerome.

The statement of union leaders was handed to McBride tonight, but it was not made public.

MEXICANS' CHARGES. A charge that a "minority" of the workers had caused the strike of union miners was contained in a statement presented today to Gov. Thomas Campbell of Arizona and Lieut. James J. Hornbrook, Seventh United States Cavalry, by officers of the Liga Protectora, a Mexican fraternal and educational organization. It bore signatures of 373 Mexicans in Jerome and 148 in Clarkdale.

The statement said there was no reason for a strike, since the Miami wage scale had been granted. The Mexicans demanded protection from the City Council and State.

A Memorial Day parade was held today by the strikers.

TELLS WEALTHY MEN NOT TO HIRE NEEDED LABOR.

"Do not Think in Terms of Self-sacrifice but in Terms of Service," Says Colonel in Address to Nassau County "Neighbors" on Memorial Day.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MINNEOLA (N. Y.) May 30.—Theodore Roosevelt, addressing several thousand of his Nassau County "neighbors" at the fair grounds here today, appealed to the wealthy among them not to employ labor to beautify their estates while the country is at war. Lifting his hat and pointing to a huge American flag, he urged those near by "to come to the front in an eager desire to serve with their bodies, with every quality of their soul and spirit and mind; with their service, labor and military skill, and not stand upon words, but in deeds for the one flag that floats over us—that flag which

Gen. North will have command of the Brownsville district; Gen. Ruckman of the Laredo district, which will include Eagle Pass and Del Rio; Gen. Bell of the El Paso district, which will include the Big Bend and New Mexico, and Gen. Green of the Arizona district.

TIME LIMIT SET FOR GERMAN ALIENS.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Time limit for registration of German aliens residing within the proscribed area of a half-mile of any military post or plant where munitions are manufactured has been extended from June 1 to June 9 at 7 o'clock afternoon, according to instructions received by United States Marshal James B. Holohan from Atty-Gen. Gregory today. Aliens who are not formally registered within that state will be subject to summary arrest. It was announced according to the authorities, hundreds of German aliens who come within the provisions of the law have failed to register thus far.

Angels and Tigers Each Grab Two Games—Slim Love Pitches Great Fifteen Innings

WOLVERTON'S MEN TAKE NEAT PAIR OF BEATINGS.

Charley Hall and Pete Standridge Hand Out a Licking Apiece to the Seals—Zeb Terry Enlivens Things by Appearing in His Red Shirt—Red Oldham a Victim in the Second Game.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

WHILE the bands down town played martial music, the Angels out at the ball park played the Seals off their feet.

Ballyhoo round the plate preparatory to later rallying 'round the 1917 flag, the boys capped both parties. In the morning, they decorated the scoreboard with a 5-0 victory, and in the afternoon hung a 7-0-1 garland on the Seals.

EIGHT STRAIGHT.

This makes eight straight for the home guard and there is talk of sending them to Europe to end the war single-handed. The event of the past three days have served to reduce the swelling from which the Seals were suffering when they landed in this port. Their dreams of conquest are being shattered, day by day, and sometimes twice a day. Down with Ben Berry and the other autocrats.

Unfortunately, Frank Chance was unable to witness either combat. The P. L. is still on the lag. He remained at his palatial ranch taking grumpy tablets every half hour for the first three hours, and after that every hour until the cold is broken up.

HAN FOR ZEB!

Prior to the game, Zeb got out and lived up to the name around short with his red undershirt. He did not wear the shirt around in his hand, but wore it as in bygone days. There is only one more more brilliant than Zeb's shirt, and that is his feeling. Those are guaranteed not to fade. Most players returning from the big league would be stuck up and arrayed in purple and fine linen. Not so with Zeb. He clings to the class A undershirt of his minor league days.

Chap. Joe Schultz sat in the grand stand, where he could command a good view of the scenery. This was better than not commanding anything. Joe says he has a number of offers to play ball, but will accept none of them until he hears from Pittsburgh.

FLAT DENIAL.

While admitting that he is in charge of the Los Angeles club's goal, he denies that he is training it to follow him home. He says it is a hard rule at the hotel where he is stopping that guests must not be accompanied by goats. Still, he might slip it through the back door, or take it up the fire escape.

Pete Standridge brooked eld

YESTERDAY WAS A BIG DAY FOR THE EX-COAST PLAYERS.

FORMER Coast Leaguers who have been providing sensations in the major show with an increased luster yesterday. Slim Love, former Angel, seems to have "arrived" as a big leaguer. Slim pitched himself into the headlines and a home by shutting out the Athletics in fifteen innings. His control was superb and would have done credit to a right-hander.

Johnny Rawlings, substituting at second base for Evans, was the leading factor in Boston's double victory over Brooklyn. It has been less than three weeks since Rawlings wrote to Darnotto asking a job with the Tigers. He was then on the bench and didn't think that he had a chance to break in.

Howard Ehmke let Cleveland down with five hits and was assisted to victory by Pep Young, one of Harry Wolverton's proteges, who drove in a batch of runs.

These are only the most noteworthy achievements. Several other athletes from the Coast were much in evidence.

taking them to the park did not enter into their minds. Had they brought their pillows with them it would not have been necessary for them to rest soft cushions to sit on. It is believed, now that it has been suggested, the fans who attend morning games will on arising bring their pillows along and in that way reduce the high cost of sitting down.

It was fitting that those splendid battle-scarred veterans, Spider Baum and Charley Hall, should do the pitching. These survivors of the Federal League war pitched as few of the rising generation of recruits can pitch, allowing only five hits each. The country's crisis came in the second. Manuel singled and then Kliffier smashed a grounder to left. The pill clipped off a piece of Bill Schaller's elbow and traveled thence to the fence, both men scoring. Baum pointed the finger of suspicion at Schaller, but Bill denies that he is an alien enemy. Although not born in this country, being a native of Cook county, Ill., he moved here at an early age and always has been regarded as a loyal citizen and conscientious outfielder.

Hits by Koerner and Kenworthy and a flock of errors produced another in the seventh. Vaughn, who was hitting three out of every five times up, singled back of a blow by Davis in the sixth for the fifth run. Two were added in the eighth. Standridge singled with one down and went to second while Manuel was engaged in deadly combat with the ball out in center. Margerit counted him with a double and then stole third.

After Vaughn had fouled out Oldham hit Kenworthy in his royal ribs. A double steal was started and finished when Baker dreamed that he had a howitzer in his sleeve and almost shot a hand off Oldham. The throw was too warm even for a red-headed pitcher to handle, and Margerit scored in an erect and soldierly manner.

MORNING GAME.

Approximately 2800 puff-bellied patriots piled themselves from their pillows in time to attend the morning slaughter of the Seals. They piled themselves down, not because they had anything against the pillows, but because the thought of

HORSTMAN TO KEEP HIS JOB.

Oscar Horstman appears to have realized his life's ambition. He has made good as a major league pitcher. At least he is good enough for the St. Louis Cardinals to retain him.

The Cardinals took him under option last season, and he reported this spring. This option would have expired tomorrow. Yesterday, Secretary Weber of the Cardinals stated that St. Louis will immediately forward a check closing the deal. This is taken to mean that the Cardinals intend to retain the youngster.

Horstman had a world of stuff when with the Angels, but suffered from lack of control. It was expected that his wildness would wear off with experience.

AN UPSET AUTO.

Car Turns Turtle—Puts Occupants Under It, but They're Almost Unhurt.

Miraculous escapes from serious injury were experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Rome H. Locatelli of No. 1225 West Fifty-second street, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mathews of No. 3525 Rudling avenue, when the automobile in which they were riding last night turned turtle at Thirty-ninth street and Vermont avenue.

Mr. Mathews was driving his car south on Vermont avenue, when the occupants felt a tremendous jolt and then found themselves lying on the sidewalk beneath their overturned automobile.

EXTENDING AID.

(BY A. P. WIRE.)

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—Private Ray Armstrong of a United States Cavalry troop who is stationed near Imperial Beach, about ten miles from this city, was drowned today in making a brave and successful attempt to save Private Park and Brady of his troop and Private McKinney of the hospital corps of the regiment, who were in bathing and became exhausted. Armstrong saw their predicament in the breakers and swam to them with a life preserver. They were assisted ashore, but he became exhausted and sank. The police rushed to the beach with a pulmotor, which was used on all the survivors to bring them to consciousness.

Six Thousand People See Fifteen Hundred Pasadenans Enact the Evolution of War Relief Methods in Brilliantly Costumed Pageant.

BY JOHN LLOYD.

THE tumbled heights beyond Pasadena were put to new use yesterday. They became the background for aggressive Pasadena's latest achievement, the dramatization in pageant form of a human emotion. As the day was Memorial Day, when the thoughts of the busy run of traffic back to those of rest, one of our finer, the flames of emotion were summoned for use. Mercy, whose stamp is the Red Cross, current the world around on the tides of the forty nations and the seven seas.

[illegible]

At 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon six rough youngsters drew aside the huge sheets to permit the appearance of Gilmor Brown, co-author and director. White robed, a red cross flung across his breast, he was the contentment of the great arena, and made his prolonged appearance with a flourish that was heard. It is peculiar that in the open, where the purpose is so earnest and so simple, the human voice sounds artificial. Perhaps it is the lack of the intimate of their alarms, and nature is heavenly in its simplicity, and any lesser cause of sound is unseemly, in the scheme of the earth. Mr. Brown is an accomplished elocutionist, and his theme struck

MIRIAM'S MAIDENS.

The pageant began with the ancient day when Miriam, the prophetess—Exodus x: 20 if you don't know—led her women folk to dance on the timbrels and dance to certain victory of war. If there are women like that at home to dance for their own people, why should they go abroad should be invincible, and the victory of the nation in the end?

Whatever the warriors who won the legendary victory must have suffered from arthritis, these later maidens must have suffered from rheumatism. I saw one of the girls of Tournament Park. They were barefooted, are barelegged, with dark hair, light eyes, and a bluish tint, and just as chill, and one bronze beauty, just when she was most beautiful, and the last of her warrior stepped upon a stone.

UNION OIL WILL PROBABLY DOUBLE CAPITALIZATION.

Reappraisal of Property Holdings, According to Authoritative Reports, Shows Book Figures are too Low—Stockholders to Profit by Many Millions.

Reports that the reappraisal of the property holdings of the Union Oil Company that has been under way for the past four months has been completed, and that with these figures as a basis, the capitalization of the company will be raised from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, were given semi-official circulation here yesterday.

As it stands today the actual outstanding capital stock of the corporation is slightly more than $34,000,000, and, when the stock subscribed for by the stockholders last April is fully paid up, it will be approximately $37,000,000. When the capitalization is raised to $100,000,000, it is expected that a stock dividend of from one to two shares of stock will be given to every holder of one share of stock.

Asked to verify reports about the raising of the capitalization of the company to $100,000,000, Secretary McPeak asserted that the board of directors are not contemplating such action at present, but that it is possible that the company will do so in the near future. Other officers of the corporation refused to discuss the matter, saying it was not in the affairs of the company to make such a statement that this action is about to be taken at once, if it has not already been taken.

The properties of the Union Oil Company consist of thousands of acres of choice petroleum lands, pipelines, storage tanks and facilities, etc., and it is now building a

The studying is what comes after hours in the open, a brisk breeze from the ocean, a weariness, seldom one directly at supper. Yet this is the only left for review of the notes of day's lectures and study of Manual of Guard Duty and all little books jammed with information to be learned verbatim. Men go to sleep sitting their lamps, and awake hours somewhat chilled, to roll into beds on their little iron cots.

The lessons must be learned

The old wooden building east of the main building is a temporary structure erected at the time of the Spanish-American War and is now used for the students. The quarters are in good repair, and comfortable. Heretofore they have been used for regular army quarters. Each company has its own mess hall, and a young graduate of Yale and Oxford, pronounced by his most agreeable man, worried the young bride over the matter of the sleeping quarters, but no stray atom of dirt remain.

cleaning a rifle, said to be impossible of completion—the line duty compels the angustulation of the men.

In the scanty hours of leisure, company streets swarm with vendors. A leather strip, a quarter an inch wide, and long enough to go half around the hat and to loop down to the base of the neck sells for 25 cents, except to the wary, who pay 35 cents. Wrist-watches are offered at 48 cents with leather bands. Suspensions are not hawked because the

"Our captain is an artilleryeer," said one student. "The very words of command differ the infantry orders, and the day we had company drill, the big southerner, instead of 'Squad, right!' shouted, 'fo-ahs, wheel!' We wanted to Strict conformity to regulation insisted upon. Numbers of men who joined the camp were given dollar "campaign" hats, referred to the quartermaster for the regulation hat can be had for $1.75. At a little distance, an army man can detect the difference. But tact is used. One man entered with shooting medals, another with deaf ears to the regulations against decorations of any kind, for nearly a week. He knows what was said to him, one day all the medals disappeared.

Various colonels and majors who serve or other establishments turned up in officers' caps and shoulder straps, now wear the vates' khaki, in which there is a difference. The "old-timers" at it a point to draw woolen socks and the newcomers took Cotton lets the cold breeze through.

WOMEN OF ENTIRE STATE LEAGUE FOR DEFENSE.

Mammoth Federation will Shoulder Wealth of Home Activities.

THE California Women's Committee of the National and State Council of Defense has come into being with a full-fledged working organization that includes the machinery of practically all the women's societies of the State, and with a direct present working force of fully 125,000 members, which number will be largely augmented.

The object of the organization is to co-operate in the closest manner with both the national and State defense councils, to make the women's activities count to their utmost in the various channels that have opened and are opening for their efforts; to wisely direct these efforts so that there may be no patriotic war run, but that every woman may "do her bit" in a sane and helpful manner, whether it be in conducting necessary and helpful social phases, rolling of bandages, home gardening, or what not.

Mrs. Frank A. Gibson of No. 2381 Scott street returned yesterday from San Francisco, where the new committee was organized through the activities of last month Mrs. Gibson was appointed by the Women's Committee of the National Council of Defense as temporary chairman for California, with instructions to organize the women of the State into one body. As the State Council of Defense already had taken steps along this line, Mrs. Gibson went to San Francisco to confer with its officials, and the result was an agreement for co-operation in every possible manner.

AT THE CONFERENCE.

Then followed Mrs. Gibson's call to the heads of the various organizations of the State to meet in the first conference. This was held in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, last Monday and Tuesday. Those invited to participate in this conference were:

Mrs. Robert O. Moody, Berkeley, Civic League of California; Mrs. Sarah J. Dorr, San Jose, northern district of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Laurence Draper, San Francisco, field chairman of the Young Woman's Christian Association; Mrs. Stella B. Irvine, Riverside, southern district of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. C. C. Clay, Oakland, Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. H. W. Brown, Berkeley, Committee of Mothers; Mrs. H. A. Cable, Los Angeles, California Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John Lynch, Berkeley, the American Revolution; Mrs. M. P. Carmichael, San Jose, Native Daughters of the Golden West; Miss Edna Van Eman, Los Angeles, California Nurses' Association; Miss Ora B. Chilton, Los Angeles, Pacific Coast Conference of Home Economic Associations; Mrs. Frederick C. Turner, Oakland, Association of College Alumni.

The result of this conference was the adoption of a simple working plan to coordinate the activities of the State with those of the national endeavor. Mrs. Herbert A. Cable of this city was elected president; Mrs. Stella Irvine, Riverside, and Mrs. Robert O. Moody, Berkeley, were made vice-presidents.

These women form the Executive Committee, in connection with Mrs. Shelby Tolbush of this city and

An exasperated foot darted into the upper folds of her garment, the timbrels didn't "tim-tim-din" at all, and she turned her beauty looks to the audience and left her facial expression to the director in the rear. But if Director Brown's dance is authentic, there is still something to commend in the barbarous method of celebrating victory. And Miriam should have seen it yesterday, it must be confessed.

When the curtains drew the sheets aside again, the stage revealed a stately woman representing the goddess of the Red Cross, a queen in Ireland, who founded the British Board of Home of Sorrow where the sick and wounded could be cared for in 1862.

Immediately following was a tableau of Buddha's rhyer in India, 518 A. D., who built hospitals and discarded himself while he tended the ailing.

An incident in which the Empress Flaggia, seduced her royal train to aid a sick child occupied more than fifty players. The gorgeous costumes of the old court were reproduced with a splendor of effect unexpected in so elaborate a spectacle, and the presence of the moving picture companies here is an indication.

As a contrast to the individual heroism, the barbaric indifference of the ancient peoples to death and suffering was displayed in a scene where the women asked not who were hurt or dead but how went the game of battle.

FROM MIDDLE AGES.

A Incident of the Middle Ages selected to represent the growth were introduced by a Chacona, which is a dance, composed by Ted Shaw, and presented by some fifteen women whose steps were as complicated as their dresses. And that is not insinuating they were simple.

A dramatic incident in which St. Elizabeth of Hungary feeding bread to the starving subjects was condemned by her husband for her merciful followers. When the husband seized the bread basket, the leaves had been changed to roses.

Historical incidents of the mercy of Queen Philippa at the siege of Calicut, 1484, and Queen Isabella in founding a hospital instanced the growth of the Red Cross.

Then came a series of scenes depicting events in the American revolution, although the men of Valley Forge did not appear. They were heralded as having bleeding feet, but it seems there were no bloody feet in Pasadena, and none handicrafting for them, merely to give realism to long-distance acting. A colonial minut was given, two graceful girls dancing a duet over second base. A few minutes later, some little girls doing a round dance centered their efforts on that spot where Oregon beat Pennsylvania in the Thanksgiving Day football game.

The need of the Red Cross was dramatically shown by a portrayal of Florence Nightingale amid the stricken soldiers in the Crimean War. There was shown the signing of the treaty of Geneva when the medical and nursing corps of the armies were Wife Claims Husband Disobeyed Judge's Orders to Appear in Court.

Handed Arrested Following Entrance Via Window.

Domestic troubles yesterday landed Israel Handler in the City Jail to await trial on a warrant sworn to by his wife, who charged Mr. Handler with threatening to kill her.

Mr. and Mrs. Handler agreed to disagree several weeks ago, it appears, the wife remaining at the family residence, No. 2113 Brooklyn avenue.

Because Mr. Handler kept bothering her, she states, she appeared before Judge Wood a week ago and obtained an order to keep him away from the house. Yesterday morning, she states, he disobeyed this order, and upon being refused admittance to the house, climbed in a window, swearing he would kill his wife, it is alleged.

A patrolman entered on the scene in answer to Mrs. Handler's screams. The warrant followed, with the subsequent incarceration of Mr. Handler.

Mr. Poole entered a barber shop near his home prepared to spruce up for Memorial Day. During the shaving, Mr. Poole confided to the garrulous barber that he had $50, and after the work was finished invited his new friend to have a drink. Two hours after this drink Mr. Poole came to, he stated, minus his $50, but possessed of a marvelous headache. The police are looking for the tonsorial artist.

The Zapata revolution has broken down in Mexico. "Leaf by leaf the roses fall," etc.

What a narrow escape the country had when Champ Clark failed to get that Baltimore nomination!

Meanwhile, men and brethren, there is nobody in Los Angeles or vicinity in the plot to fight the draft.

Bread has joined in the war against Germany. The Kaiser will soon be without a friend on the footstool.

The day of the June bride is at hand, and a lot of 'em are queering whether the water is fine enough to warrant the plunge.

There are not so many bulletins from the office of Secretary Lansing these days; but what we do get contain some real news.

Recalling the second inaugural of Abraham Lincoln: "The Almighty has His own purposes." It is best reading at this time.

In this war, as in all others, it takes the "fines" and the strongest. The flower of the American people will be in the firing line.

The selective draft will riddle the ranks of the professional baseball players. In some ways that is an argument for the movement.

A local Japanese smoothie says the war will end in August. One man's guess is as good as another. Somebody is bound to hit it.

It is reported that Arthur J. Altmeyer and M. Viviani are collaborating on a book to be entitled: "Fool Fellows We Met While Abroad."

The Stars and Stripes are already visible along the line in France. Later on they will be backed by hundreds of thousands of fighting men.

Six Los Angeles club women are thinking about running for the Legislature. But how would that ever be able to carry a motion to adjourn?

There will be an excise tax on sugar, coffee, tea and cocoa. What has become of the old-fashioned line against taxing the "poor man's breakfast?"

If the united women get behind the movement to compel action on the billboard nuisance before election, there will be something done, or a trace will be busted.

Nearly 400 casualties from the battle in several eastern States, but if they had all occurred in Los Angeles—where the folks know so much to blow about!

In the biographical notices in the Congressional Directory, Miss Jeannette Rankin employs but five words. They read: "Miss Jeannette Rankin, Republican, Montana." If admirable, and it is womanly.

If the new income law is to be retrospective, why not apply that rule to the pork-barrel river and lake public building and flood control laws, and repeal them? That would help in the present emergency.

The City Trustees of Venice have decided that a calypso's steam power is music, and not a mere noise. Indicating that the board is not settling any lot for Congress.

Cher up, the opponents of President Wilson in the present crisis do not count. Remember, President had a rough time in crystallizing public sentiment on the Mexican question. There are many men now living who recall the violent opposition throughout the North and in Congress to Lincoln's war policy in 1861.

Gov. Witherspoon of Oregon has appointed Judge C. L. McKnight, a Republican, to succeed Hon. Mort Lane, deceased, in the United States Senate. That will increase the party strength in the upper house to forty-three Senators. But politics is not settling any lot for Congress.

It is said that the entrance of the United States into the war will have a great effect in stimulating movement toward a republic in Greece. The Hellenic people have been a bit suspicious of what the English and French have told them about the war, but the entrance of America convinces them that the Central Powers cannot win the war—just that they have deceived and victimized by Constantinople. Now the Greeks are discussing the question of whether it is a monarchy.

I wonder why it is, dear heart, when we are far, so far apart, there comes no word, there comes no sign.

But just the memory of a pine, A woodland path, a sky of blue, A singing swallow singing you, That when you seem more near.

Than in some hour when you are here.

Perhaps in Nature answer lies, So all the stars in all the sky, Seem one great constellation, The night enshrouds the world, So all the trees that are so green, Become far one forest scene, And all the mountains faint and melt in one wall of azure hue.

And so perhaps the distance lies, In one sweet thought the heart, Friends, And so perhaps the distance lies, The vale that hill from hill divides, And so perhaps the distance lies, Makes every star a neighbor, And so perhaps the distance lies, Bridges the long, long way in, (Douglas Malloch, in the American Lumberman.)

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

THE TIMES, May 30.—[To the Editor of the Times:] It is unfortunate that the writer of your article bearing the above caption in today's issue was so misinformed as to what took place in the Episcopal convention held last week in this city.

No action whatever was taken with regard to foreign missions. Action, however, was taken with regard to the salaries of the missionaries working within the diocese of Los Angeles and also providing a plan for the distribution of the burden upon a sliding scale, so that the smaller and weaker places might be equitably dealt with.

A dissenting juror once said he never saw eleven such obstinate men as the other jurors were.

Possibly the dissenting juror might have been wrong and the other eleven right.

If there were but two dissenting voices among the clergy at this decision, would not that indicate that some of the vast majority were in favor of the plan that it must have had some merit in it?

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—[To the Editor of the Times:] I presided at the convention to which reference has been made in a leading editorial in today's Times. Permit me to say that no action whatever relating to foreign missions was taken by the convention. So far as I recall the subject of foreign missions was not even mentioned during the week. The convention did change its method of raising money for work which it is pledged to support here in Southern California. About that change there may have been and was a legitimate difference of opinion, but the discussion and subsequent decision related entirely to local needs and had nothing whatever to do with missions beyond the very narrow confines of the diocese of Los Angeles.

"Like father, like son." So goes an old quotation which applied itself yesterday in a special manner to Lieut. W. R. Cushman, in charge of the naval recruiting station here.

He received a telegram from his son, W. R. Cushman, Jr., a first-year student at Annapolis, saying that he stands eighth in the great 1916 enrollment.

Young Cushman was one of a class of 625 who began the curriculum, but his father is not altogether surprised at his showing.

"Our family has been in the navy so many years it's just natural instinct to take to such training," said the local officer.

"My father and grandfather were both naval officers. I was in the navy until retired for physical disability. The present crisis has brought me back into service. My boy has heard 'navy' ever since he was in swaddling clothes. There are other branches of the family, practically all of which have served or are serving under the Stars and Stripes."

The woman was 39 or 40 years old and her clothing and various articles in her room lead to the supposition she was of the theatrical profession.

There was no evidence of foul play.

About that change there may have been and was a legitimate difference of opinion, but the discussion and subsequent decision related entirely to local needs and had nothing whatever to do with missions beyond the very narrow confines of the diocese of Los Angeles.

Stands High in Class at Annapolis.

"Like father, like son." So goes an old quotation which applied itself yesterday in a special manner to Lieut. W. R. Cushman, in charge of the naval recruiting station here.

He received a telegram from his son, W. R. Cushman, Jr., a first-year student at Annapolis, saying that he stands eighth in the great 1916 enrollment.

Young Cushman was one of a class of 625 who began the curriculum, but his father is not altogether surprised at his showing.

"Our family has been in the navy so many years it's just natural instinct to take to such training," said the local officer.

"My father and grandfather were both naval officers. I was in the navy until retired for physical disability. The present crisis has brought me back into service. My boy has heard 'navy' ever since he was in swaddling clothes. There are other branches of the family, practically all of which have served or are serving under the Stars and Stripes."

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Woman, Said to Have Been Actress from Los Angeles, Discovered Lifeless in a Hotel at Montreal—No Evidence of Foul Play.

Mrs. Jessie Whitmore, believed to have been an actress from Los Angeles, was found dead in bed at the Queens Hotel, Montreal, Can., according to advice from that city.

The woman was 39 or 40 years old and her clothing and various articles in her room lead to the supposition she was of the theatrical profession.

There was no evidence of foul play.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

THE TIMES, May 30.—[To the Editor of the Times:] It is unfortunate that the writer of your article bearing the above caption in today's issue was so misinformed as to what took place in the Episcopal convention held last week in this city.

No action whatever was taken with regard to foreign missions. Action, however, was taken with regard to the salaries of the missionaries working within the diocese of Los Angeles and also providing a plan for the distribution of the burden upon a sliding scale, so that the smaller and weaker places might be equitably dealt with.

A dissenting juror once said he never saw eleven such obstinate men as the other jurors were.

Possibly the dissenting juror might have been wrong and the other eleven right.

If there were but two dissenting voices among the clergy at this decision, would not that indicate that some of the vast majority were in favor of the plan that it must have had some merit in it?

The Episcopal Convention—A Word from the Bishop.

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—[To the Editor of the Times:] I presided at the convention to which reference has been made in a leading editorial in today's Times. Permit me to say that no action whatever relating to foreign missions was taken by the convention. So far as I recall the subject of foreign missions was not even mentioned during the week. The convention did change its method of raising money for work which it is pledged to support here in Southern California. About that change there may have been and was a legitimate difference of opinion, but the discussion and subsequent decision related entirely to local needs and had nothing whatever to do with missions beyond the very narrow confines of the diocese of Los Angeles.

Steeplejack Jack Wilson, whose daring feats in scaling towers, chimneys, bargepoles, etc., have created sensations
in many a Pacific Coast town and city, has temporarily forgiven his energies toward Steeplejack Wilson and his companions in this patriotic work have opened headquarters in Room 401, International Bank Building, Temple and Spring streets. They hope to get in touch with every Scot in Southern California who is available for military service.

That they are meeting with success is attested by the fact that tomorrow they will send to Vancouver, B. C., forty brave, husky men who hope to go under the colors with the Seaforth Highlanders.

WOULD PROTECT ENLISTED MEN.

Women Ask Congressional Action on Social Evil.

Want to Safeguard Those at Front and at Home.

Death Penalty Suggested for Moral Transgressors.

A discussion of the social evil,
which threatens, it is claimed,
to undermine the health of the young men about to be drafted into the army, was interrupted at the Friday Morning Club House yesterday.

Though statements were made by those who had studied army conditions that fairly staggered the audience, it remained for Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the Superior Court to take away the breath of the audience of women. He had read a resolution which advocated legislation as a means of remedying the evil effects of dissolute women at army camps, and when objection was made that to punish dissolute practices as a misdemeanor was hardly strong enough, Judge Wilbur proposed an amendment. "In order to do away with pimping and pandering, involving our soldiers and soldiers," he said, "the practice shall be deemed a felony, punishable with death."

The amendment was received with applause. Then, as the full effect of the amendment began to filter through the minds of the women, there was silence. By and by one woman arose and said: "That sounds like strong doctrine."

ELECT 'EM, SAY CLUB MEMBERS.

Pertinent Words on Board of Education Fight.

Leading Women Indorse the Citizens' Ticket.

Children's Welfare Should be Above Politics.

"The spontaneous and inspiring rally of the club women of Los Angeles to the support of the citizens' ticket for the Board of Education is the most significant feature of the campaign," says a report sent out yesterday from the headquarters of the citizens' committee.

"No citizens have made a more careful study of the needs of the public schools than the club women of Los Angeles, and their enthusiastic indorsement of their public and private utterances, shows that Lester K. Chase, D. K. Edwards, Lynn Helm, C. C. Parker, C. E. Seaman, Frank Simpson and Miss Dore D. Stoddard meet the requirements of the schools from every point of view."

In addition to the well-known club women already quoted, the following express themselves as being heartily in favor of the citizens' ticket:

Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher, second vice-president of the Elbell Club; You may quote me as indorsing the citizens' ticket. It is competent and well balanced.

Mrs. Matthew E. Robinson of the Elbell Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy; I am working for the citizens' ticket. That shows where I stand.

Mrs. Edward Magarum, committee woman of the Elbell Club; I heartily indorse the citizens' ticket, and I find that most of my friends take the same position with reference to the school board election.

WANT THIS SEAT.

Mrs. Henry Parlan, Friday Morning Club; Put me down as supporting the citizens' ticket. We want the best possible officials for our schools and the citizens' ticket is made up with that in view.

Mrs. Lambert E. Jenkins, president of the Los Angeles Travel Club; I am strongly in favor of the citizens' ticket. It should be elected from top to bottom.

Mrs. Carolyn Bond, Friday Morning Club and Women's City Club; I am supporting the citizens' ticket because I sincerely believe that it stands for the best interests of our public schools.

Mrs. James Henry Ballagh, president of the Mothers' Mission Club; I am always for the best; therefore, I am heartily supporting the citizens' ticket for the Board of Education.

Mrs. E. L. Hoff, president of the Rosecrans Study Club; I am convinced that the best interests of the schools will be served through the election of the citizens' ticket for the Board of Education.

Mrs. John Hart Pearson of the Elbell Club and the Drama League; I am heartily in favor of the citizens' ticket, and anxious to have it elected.

Mrs. Rollin B. Lane, president of the Hollywood Women's Club; I am glad to see the women voters of Los Angeles taking large interest in the campaign for the Board of Education, and urge them to support the citizens' ticket as the one best calculated to protect the interests of the schools, the taxpayers and the welfare of the 30,000 children in our public schools.

Mrs. Donald McDonald, past president and vice-president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Railway Mail Clerks Association; I have indorsed the citizens' ticket, and trust that every member of it will be elected.

UNQUALIFIED INDORSEMENT.

Mrs. Christopher Gordon, Friday Morning Club; I most heartily indorse the citizens' ticket for the Board of Education as the one best calculated to meet all requirements. Should give us a strong, constructive and harmonious administration.

Mrs. N. D. Gleason, who had borne of hardships and privations in the primary campaign for the Board of Education; I am acquainted with all the candidates on the citizens' ticket. It is a very strong ticket, indeed, and should be elected without exception.

Mrs. Dan H. Peters, president of the Professional Women's Club; I sincerely indorse the citizens' ticket for the Board of Education. I believe, however, that there should be a physician on the school board, and will therefore vote for Dr. Downs and his members of the citizens' ticket.

For Settlement.

UP TO COMMISSION?

President Shorn of Pacific Electric Declares Road Does not Oppose Mass Drive Crossing, but that Jurisdiction is in Doubt.

Commenting on the somewhat tart letter sent by the Business Men's Association of Angeles Mass to the City Council regarding the crossing of Mass drive and the Santa Monica air line, President Paul Shorn of the Pacific Electric said yesterday that this road has no objection to the crossing being made, but that, as the road belongs to the Southern Pacific, a question of jurisdiction is involved which may make it necessary for the State Railroad Commission to pass upon it. The point is a legal one which he says the road is anxious to have settled as any one. He added that the only connection the Pacific Electric has with the matter is that it operates the cars over the air line.

SANITARY PRECAUTIONS.

The Pacific Reduction Company has completed arrangements whereby it will remove, free of cost, all dead animals within the city limits with the exception of cats and dogs. A city ordinance providing that a heavy charge should be made for such collection by the company, which latter was then to pay the city, has been altered so as to allow the disposal without cost to the people.

High Club Honors May be Hers.

Mrs. E. R. Brainerd.

Expected by well-informed club women to be elected president of the Friday Morning Club at the club's election tomorrow.

Forecast.

PICK MRS. BRAINERD AS NEW FRIDAY CLUB HEAD.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

THE Friday Morning Club is experiencing the closest, keenest fight for the presidency that it has had in years. Tomorrow's election will decide whether Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, the present vice-president, or Mrs. Andrew R. Lobinger is to be the next president.

But the quindance, those keenly interested campaigners who canvass every vote, give Mrs. E. R. Brainerd the victory. They predict that she will win with a majority of between twenty and thirty votes. Mrs. Brainerd is deemed the logical successor of Mrs. Seward Simons in this proud office of the foremost woman's club on this Coast, both in view of her current vice-presidency, which precedent has regarded as the accepted apprenticeship to the office, and her seventeen years of active service in the club's membership. In other respects she shares the worthy and charming attributes of her opponent, Mrs. Andrew R. Lobinger. It is felt, too, that Mrs. Brainerd's victory will be largely due to the need of a shrewd business head to guide the club affairs in these troublous times, and Mrs. Brainerd is a canny foot, with all that nation's perspicacity in matters of dollar, guild sense and practical understanding of issues.

"Mrs. Lobinger is a Colonial Dame, with all that implies in culture and breeding. But our idea of a Colonial Dame is that she would make a better hostess than she would a business woman," said one member of the club yesterday. "And we feel that of the two, while it is hard to choose when both are so likable, Mrs. Brainerd could fill the dual role the more ably."

This seems to be the average view, which is the reason Mrs. Brainerd's victory is predicted at the polls tomorrow.

Discretion.

ANGELENO A CENSOR.

In Charge of All Foreign War News Given Out at Washington—Says Correspondents Never Have Yet Violated the Trust Reposed in Them.

Hugh Gibson, son of Mrs. Frank A. Gibson of this city, who has been in the diplomatic service for some time, is now head of the foreign intelligence department for the Secretary of State. Through his hands passes all the information regarding the foreign situation that is made public.

In a letter to Mrs. Gibson, her son tells of several recent occasions where newspaper men of Washington became aware of government movements and European war conditions that would have been greatly injured by publicity. They were taken fully into confidence, however, and after the situation had been explained, they were asked as a matter of honor not to use the information they possessed.

Mr. Gibson states that in not a single instance have the newspaper representatives betrayed the faith placed in them.

WILD SEND AMBULANCE.

REDLANDS, May 30.—Redlands is soon to have an ambulance in service "somewhere in France," for the officers and directors of the First National Bank have subscribed $1600 to be used in the purchase of a machine and to keep it in service one year. The driver has not yet been selected, but it will probably be a graduate of the University of Redlands.

After school, Leonard has been going to the University of Southern California to meet some older boys, who are students of chemistry. One of these explained that the mixture of sulphur, fero-nitrate and a few other things would create fine "laughing gas." He gave Leonard samples of each chemical, a test tube and directions for mixing. This happened in the morning. Becoming anxious about the experiment the boy mixed the drugs in the classroom. When the drugs began to get in their work he hurriedly excused himself. Outside the class, he dropped the tube down a ventilator. It landed on the cement floor with a crash.

Immediately the aroma of Chinese stink bombs, ancient gaseous deodorant vegetables and other things began to float through the building. Teachers and scholars became restless. Principal M. R.

Fendleton was called in. He took one whiff and ordered the class out into the open for the remainder of the day.

While all of this was transpiring, Miss Irene Curtis, the janitress, in true war-time manner, succumbed to the stench. She had to be removed by assistants. An investigation was started, but Leonard Beckett upset it all by coming forward and confessing all. Because of his frankness, he was let off with light punishment.

SIGN NUISANCE A DOUBLE TAX.

Billboards Discussed from Advertiser's Position.

Speaker also Condemns Plan for New Power Bonds.

First See that Original Sum was Properly Spent.

R. W. Kelly, who is opposing the $2,000,000 power bond issue, condemned the billboard nuisance yesterday while addressing a large audience at the South Park Improvement Association rooms, San Pedro and East Twenty-second street. He said in part:

"This billboard matter is a double tax any way you look at it. You must charge it to overhead if you are an advertiser because, even though you may use the billboards, you are bound to use the newspapers. In the last analysis the consumer must pay for the billboard nuisance and what have we to show for the expenditure?"

"Often these boards hide weed patches and other unsightly spots that would not be tolerated if these eyesores were removed. The nuisances concealed by the signs cannot be seen by passerby but are plainly visible from the windows of residences adjoining the lots on which these board obstructions have been built."

"Another serious objection is the advertisements that are played up. Pictures not conducive to the morals of our children are shown broadly on the boards and we stand for it. You are not compelled to look at anything in the newspaper of which you may not approve, but the billboards are flaunted in your face and your wife and family must look at objectionable scenes."

"While I seldom ask anyone to vote for an incumbent in office who is already well known, I believe it is the duty of every home lover to get solidly behind Councilman Corwell. Let's make the surfeit of his reelection on Tuesday. We need him as an adviser of the other eight Councilmen who will be elected."

Regarding litigants, the speaker said:

"It's not a question of the corporations or the individuals or the question of what kind of transportation in all kinds of weather you would receive if you discard the railroads and depend on the litigants. Also don't forget the values of our outlying property if we give the litigants the right of way over the best street-car systems in the world."

"Let me call your attention to this other appeal for the $2,000,000 in bonds. Of this sum they tell us $1,000,000 is to be used for power plant No. 2. You remember what power plant No. 1 cost, and what you were promised. If you don't you might refresh your mind before you vote and I'm satisfied you then will never vote another issue of bonds until you see to it that the money already entrusted to our public servants has been conscientiously and honestly used."

"We now have sufficient funds available for all that is needed without voting another $2,000,000. When this is judiciously spent you will find me doing what I can to provide the funds to finish the job. My trip to the aqueduct satisfies me that we will not need to vote bonds for three years. The aqueduct is O. K. When we need more bonds I believe we will all be unanimous in support of the proposition."

The Social Welfare and City Planning committee of the Municipal League will meet this afternoon in the league rooms to consider recommendations to be made on the billboard question. The sign men will have a representative present and the issue will be fought out whether the league shall take a stand on the matter.

Everything points to a battle royal when Councilman Corwell endeavors to get his anti-billboard ordinance considered by the recalcitrant Council on one year. The driver has not yet been selected, but it will probably be a graduate of the University of Redlands.

At The Times said editorially, March 25, 1917:

"The power situation seems to be in a greater mess than ever. When the Council revoked the previous proceedings because it was dissatisfied with the Public Service Board was conducting the negotiations, a $12,000,000 bond issue had been proposed and there was hazy talk about a long period contract, without which the two companies declared they could not go into the deal. No change of any value to the city has been made since then and there is no more reason now why the people should favor a bond issue than there was six weeks ago."

Leaving aside entirely the question of whether such municipal power bonds at this juncture are a wise thing for the city of Los Angeles, the fact remains that the proposed deal with the Edison company and the Pacific Light and Power Corporation will not accomplish anything of the kind. The city is still a long way from possessing that 'absolute monopoly of power' which has been declared to be so essential. (Advertisement.)

CHURCH WORKER CALLED.

Final Summons for Mrs. Alice Mary Fish.

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Mary Fish, who died yesterday at the family residence, No. 2306 East Second street, will be held in the Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church, No. 125 North Chicago street, at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be in Rosefield.

Mrs. Fish was the wife of Alfred B. Fish, secretary-treasurer of the Excelsior Cereal Milling Company and walnut grower. She was native of Newington, Ct., and was educated in the East, having been a student at the famous Northfield Seminary. She was deeply interested in church and general religious work, and was a member of the Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church. She was also an active member of various local organizations on Boyle Heights. Besides the widower she leaves two daughters. Mrs. Fish was the daughter of Franklin C. Lattimer of No. 2314 East First street, and had resided in Los Angeles for fifteen years.

PERMIT FOR SCHOOL DANCE REFUSED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, May 30.—The Board of Education yesterday refused official sanction for a dance proposed to be given on June 15 by the junior class of the Santa Ana High School to the seniors. The board took the view that while individually the members might have no objection to the affair, officially it did not care to go on record as for the hop. Reference was made to the fact that about one-third of the members of the junior class opposed giving the dance.
